AND THE BEST PART WAS...

"I have been blown away by the level of compassion, support, and consideration my professors have demonstrated for each and every student. The path to success is by no means easy as it is of course Harvard, but all of my professors have been there with me every step of the way to ensure I am learning and developing my skills in such a way that I am being simultaneously pushed and supported. I have so far completed assignments and courses I had not previously thought feasible, and yet I have excelled in such a way that my confidence and my skills have skyrocketed due to the level of support I have received."
