Apply now!: <https://web.dce.harvard.edu/lowell-scholarship>
(Application deadline: Tuesday, January 3, 2023 at 11:59 p.m. eastern time)

What is the Lowell Student Scholarship?

The Lowell Student Scholarship is an academic scholarship offered by Harvard Extension School that gives select high school students the opportunity to enroll in (1) undergraduate-level course at the Extension School (with some restrictions) at a reduced tuition cost. The 2022-23 tuition rate for an undergraduate-level course is $1,980. The scholarship will cover 50% of the total cost to enroll in the course ($990), and the student will be responsible for covering the remaining balance owed for the course ($990). Students can enroll in any undergraduate-level course of their choosing (except for Management courses), as long as they meet the stated prerequisites for the course noted in the course description in the course catalog.

Who is eligible to apply for the scholarship?

To be eligible to apply for the spring 2023 Lowell Student Scholarship, students must meet all of the following eligibility requirements:

- Must be 15 years old at the time of course registration
- Must be currently enrolled in a Boston-area high school for the 2022-23 academic year
- Must be a high school sophomore, junior, or senior at the start of the spring 2023 term (graduation years = 2023, 2024, and 2025)
- Must have a 3.0 or higher cumulative GPA in all coursework attempted at your high school

You will be ineligible to receive the scholarship if you do not meet all of these eligibility requirements.

What do I need to submit to be considered for the scholarship?

The only thing that students need to submit in order to be considered for the scholarship is the online application. The application will ask you to upload a copy of your high school transcript (official or unofficial), which you should request to be sent to you electronically from your high school. You will also be asked to briefly explain why you are interested in enrolling at a course at Harvard Extension School this spring.

PLEASE NOTE:

- NO DOCUMENTS SHOULD BE MAILED TO THE SCHOLARSHIPS COMMITTEE. Students will be prompted to upload required documents (like transcripts) directly onto the scholarship application before being able to submit their completed applications to our team for our review.
- COUNSELOR RECOMMENDATION LETTERS ARE NOT REQUIRED FOR THE SPRING TERM. The only exception to this rule is for homeschooled students, as noted on the online application. Homeschooled students are required to submit a letter of recommendation from a non-relative as part of their scholarship application if they do not have a transcript to provide us with. All other students are exempt from this requirement, as we realize that it is harder for students to request these letters from their college counselors or teachers during the holidays.

Covid-19 Updates

<https://extension.harvard.edu/about/news-press/covid-19-updates/>

We strongly encourage all students to check out our Covid-19 updates page regularly for the most up-to-date information regarding Covid-19 policies and protocols on campus.

English Proficiency Requirement for Course Registration

<https://extension.harvard.edu/registration-admissions/course-registration/english-proficiency-requirement-for-registration/>

English is the language of instruction at Harvard Extension School. If your native language is not English, then you must provide designated proof of English proficiency to be enrolled in any Extension School course, unless you are an admitted degree candidate at Harvard College, Harvard Extension School, or at a Harvard graduate or professional school. Please click on the link above to learn more about how to meet this requirement if English isn't your native language.

Choosing a Course

- Check <https://extension.harvard.edu/academics/programs/take-a-course/> for up-to-date course information and review the calendar at <https://extension.harvard.edu/registration-admissions/academic-calendar/> for critical registration, drop and withdrawal deadlines.
- Discuss your course selection with a high school teacher or adviser. To help ensure success, we recommend that you choose skills-based courses such as computer science, math, or foreign language, as well as introductory content courses, such as Introduction to Psychology. Graduate-level courses and management courses are not eligible.
- Carefully read the course description. Check prerequisites and meeting times and make sure that the course is being offered for undergraduate credit.
- Get a copy of the course syllabus from the course description online or in class on the first day.

Advice, Transcripts, and Future Use

Taking courses at Harvard Extension School is a rewarding experience; however, be prepared to work hard. College courses demand more of students than do high school courses. It goes without saying that all work should be your own, and you should be aware of our academic honesty guidelines. We recommend that you review our tips for avoiding plagiarism and other resources at <https://extension.harvard.edu/for-students/>.

The course that you will take is undergraduate credit-bearing, resulting in an official grade and university transcript from Harvard Extension School. Courses will result in a letter grade or WD (indicating withdrawal), which will appear on a transcript from Harvard Extension School. You'll be required to submit your Harvard Extension School transcript with your college applications regardless of the grade you receive, if applications ask students to submit all official transcripts. While it is always up to an individual school to determine credit, Harvard Extension School credit is ordinarily transferrable to most colleges and universities.

TIP: If you find yourself unable to complete the course, we strongly recommend that you formally withdraw by the deadline. If you don't withdraw and don't complete the course, you will earn a failing grade.

Please note, all students pursuing admission to the ALB degree program at Harvard Extension School must possess a high school diploma or its equivalent, and students may not enroll in degree program courses at Harvard Extension School to use towards admission until five years after their high school credential was earned.
